From the Flyers Novice AE Team.
 With a note from Don Cherry!

After spending most of their parents' money on hockey fees and equipment, and after waking the house up at 6am for countless early morning practices—isn't it only right that these kids give an expression of thanks and love (and a whole lot of laughs) to their parents?

These books do just that. They were created as an opportunity for a Novice Rep Hockey Team, a little group of 8-year-old puck chasers, to express their feelings about their moms and dads, to tell them what they think for a change.

The reasons they give are honest, funny, and true—all that you would expect from a group of 8-year olds! Asked why he loves his hockey mom, one answers without hesitating: "because she always skips out on work for it." Why does his dad deserve thanks—not for the endless offside drills?—no, more for "distracting me while I am trying to play." And their illustrations, done with crayons and markers, are simply charming.
